Chairman's Welcome...

Welcome to the 2025 Riverland Field Days at the Riverland Event Centre with its excellent facilities available for hire.

There is something for everyone, including large displays of machinery, cars and trucks, Exhibition pavilion, marquee pavilion, home and garden, caravan and camping, and entertainment.

Some of the entertainment this year includes the popular Factory FMX, a thrilling motor bike action display. The Rev It Up Racing is also here again for more thrills and spills.

For the children, there is the old McDonald farm, face painting and NJ Playhouse, as well as the kid's safari.

The popular AgArt completion is at the Soundshell stage so have a cuppa and a rest while viewing the creative fashions.

As usual there is a good variety of food choices, or BYO your own picnic food and enjoy the green grounds and hopefully beautiful Riverland weather.

We would be thrilled to have you join us with your family as an enjoyable day out, and to support the exhibitors who put a lot of effort into bringing the latest information about their products or services to the Field Days.

The idea is to see all the innovative technology and products and services in one place. It is helpful to see and touch and talk to the sales staff. New products and services are continually being developed, and the Field Days is an excellent opportunity to catch up with the latest trends.

I would like to take this opportunity of thanking our many volunteers who work hard to ensure the success of the Field Days. Many thanks also to the exhibitors who support us with their attendance and lastly, I would like to thank the public for your attendance and participation and look forward to enjoying the two-day event with you.

Wes Kalisch
- Chairman,
Riverland Field Days Inc.

Ticketing options for the 2025 Field Days

SEVERAL options are available to purchase tickets to the 2025 Riverland Field Days.

Tickets are $20 online and at the gate, or $18 for early birds at selected venues, while students and children under 18 are free to enter.

RIVERLAND VENUES FOR EARLY BIRD TICKETS ARE:

- Barmera - Barmera Visitor Centre
- Berri - Berri Visitor Centre
- Loxton - Heirloom
- Renmark - Dave's Work & Safety
- Waikerie - Woody's Variety Store No. 1 Home and Gifts

Tickets are available by cash or card from these venues up until close of business on Thursday, September 11.

"You can purchase tickets online, even on the days of the Field Days event, and the price won't change regardless of when they are purchased," said Emma Gwiazda, Field Days manager.

Limited cash will be on hand at gates, and Eftpos machines will be operating.

"We are accepting cash at the gates, but there won't be much change available," Mrs Gwiazda said.

"We're encouraging people to bring either the right amount of money for the amount of people in the group and just be aware that we might not have change for bigger notes."

Organisers say having online bookings helps to reduce the workload on the Field Days volunteers, and is a convenient way for patrons to get their tickets.

Help find the Riverland's Local Hero

THE Riverland proudly boasts numerous locals who go above and beyond for our community.

In 2025 the Riverland Field Days is shining a light on the amazing people who make our community stronger, with the inaugural Local Hero Award.

The efforts of volunteers strengthens social connections, boosts community resilience, and fosters a sense of belonging and shared purpose.

For many Riverland towns, volunteers are the backbone of local initiatives, keeping traditions alive and ensuring services continue, despite geographic and financial challenges.

Volunteering enriches both the individual and the community, helping the Riverland thrive and remain connected.

Vote now for your favourite local volunteer by visiting the website (www.riverlandfielddays.com.au/local-hero-competition/).

The winner will be announced and presented with their award by The Murray Pioneer editor Hugh Schuitemaker, at the Riverland Field Days, on Saturday, September 13.

NOMINEES FOR THE 2025 LOCAL HERO AWARD INCLUDE:

CAROLE DATSON

From 2012 volunteered doing the community Santa's cave for nine years, almost 13 years at Red Cross, has worked in the Waikerie Op Shop for 14 years, and still going with Meals on Wheels, previously cooking and now out delivering. She's spent nine years, still ongoing, with the Waikerie Hospital Guild, and recently joined - as she clearly thought she had some spare time - the Waikerie Village Committee.

ED COTTAM

A well-known Riverland local who over his years has dedicated his time and talents across many organisations. From teaching our kids, through to volunteering his time and talents with the Riverland Musical Society, as well as the Barmera Theatre Gallery. Assisting in random emergency situations and the time he gives to the Riverland Field Days event, Ed truly is a Riverland local hero.

ELSA LOULAS

Elsa is the lovely lady behind Kosmos Community Kitchen, giving to those in the community that are less fortunate, homeless or just doing it tough. Elsa also volunteers for the Heart Foundation joining them on their walks.

SAMUEL TAYLOR

Is there a need for tech to be used at a local community event? Samuel is usually your guy behind the flashing lights, the sound and the livestream. Samuel has been a member of the Riverland Life FM Board for many years, now currently serving as the deputy chair, but his real interest lies in all things tech, including the running of the radio station. Always willing to serve others with a willing heart and positive 'can do' attitude. Samuel is more than happy to sit in the background and not get recognition for his amazing efforts, but now it's his turn to get some recognition for what he brings to the table.

SAM HARKINS

Sam, and husband Shannon, are both heavily involved with the Riverland Musical Society (RMS). Sam has shown great passion and heart behind her roles over the years, bringing an electric energy and an amazing encouraging nature to those performing around her. Sam is currently the president of RMS, and has served in roles like the treasurer and secretary over the years, as well as overseeing the costume department for the past eight years. The time, patience and passion she brings to any position she holds, making sure that the Riverland has an amazing musical each year to grip our community, surely makes her an excellent nomination.

Riverland Field Days 2025

Rivergum Christian College principal Jessica Clark says the Children's Safari continues to be a highlight of the annual event.

Field Days Safari keeps getting better

THE children's Safari is back and bigger than ever at this year's Riverland Field Days.

The time-honoured tradition will feature nearly 50 exhibitors on the trail map and have plenty of children joining the fun across the two days.

The ever-popular trail encourages children to visit exhibitors and collect their promotional materials throughout the site, from outdoors in the main rows to the pavilion and marquee pavilion, similar in concept to the Yellow Brick Road at the Adelaide Show.

Interim Safari co-ordinator Samantha Prider, from Rivergum Christian College, is optimistic about participation this year, despite the clash with other local sporting events.

"You could plan to visit on both days and start to cross off your exhibitor map on Friday, and continue on Saturday," Mrs Prider said.

"Our exhibitors are spread everywhere so it can be quite tiring for little legs to tackle the trail in one go. Nobody wants to miss out on any goodies."

In fact, Mrs Prider recommends families prepare well for their Safari adventure.

"Make sure you bring a water bottle and wear sunscreen and a hat," she said.

"Some families bring a garden cart with them, or make the kids walk and put the freebies in their pushers. We find that the starter bags are large, but it doesn't take many site visits for them to overflow."

To help lighten the load, Rivergum has made a tent adjacent to the Safari site available for families to stop and rest on their journey.

"We've called it 'Safari Ranger's Rest' and it's a place for families to just stop for a minute in the shade, refill their drink bottles, refresh the sunscreen, sit down and let the kids play quietly," Mrs Prider said.

"We'll have a reading corner, some colouring, activities and toys so that anyone who needs a minute away from the crowd can recharge in relative peace. It's free and available to all."

Rivergum Christian College principal Jessica Clark is excited for the school to be hosting the Safari again this year, and looks forward to meeting the children as they visit the Rivergum tent next door.

"I love seeing what the children have already collected as they add our giveaway to their stash," Mrs Clark said.

"It's great to hear about all the things they can see and do at the Field Days."

Mrs Clark is particularly thankful for the exhibitors who sign up to spread some joy on the trail each year.

"We couldn't do this without the amazing support of the local businesses and organisations who give up their time, money and energy to make it so great,"

she said.

"People are staying up late baking biscuits, or packing things in bags, adding stickers and hauling boxes of merchandise to their sites just to put a smile on kid's faces. With the negative outlook for our economy right now it's important to do something positive where we can."

Mrs Prider also warned families that if they attend later on Saturday they may be disappointed.

"There are only 350 bags available, and we usually sell out before Saturday lunchtime, so don't leave your Field Days trip until the last minute or you might miss out," she said.

The Riverland Field Days Safari is located at site 505, near Gate 1, with the Safari Ranger's Rest at site 507.

Factory FMX to stun Field Days audience

MOTOCROSS riders with international experience are set to wow attendees of this year's Riverland Field Days.

The Factory FMX team has been performing since 2004, and features riders Ashley Ekins, Brandon Greenwood, and Joshua Burdon.

The action-packed shows will be a demonstration for younger audiences on how the team started in the sport, with jumping in closer to begin, and then ramps will be pushed back to 75-feet long, and the bikes will fly 30-feet high.

The commentary and music creates a great atmosphere, and the Factory FMX team will be performing three times each day, for 20 minutes.

Don't miss out on this amazing opportunity to see Factory FMX, who regularly perform daily for huge audiences in China.

THE FACTORY FMX TEAM INCLUDES:

- Ashley Ekins
- Brandon Greenwood
- Joshua Burdon

In the Up-Cycled Wear category, Cocktail Time by Rosslyn Pearce, and modelled by Bonnie, won the over-18 prize.

Ag Art Fashion Parade showcasing young talent

THE creativity of young Riverlanders will be highlighted through a beloved annual tradition at this year's Riverland Field Days.

The Ag-Art Wear competition and subsequent fashion parade encourages entrants to create a piece of wearable art made with materials of either an agricultural/horticultural nature, such as those produced or found on a farm or block, alternatively the Upcycled category prompts the use of items of a recyclable nature.

Organiser Penny Gill said expanding the participation of local school students in this year's competition had been a goal.

"A lot of work has been done to get schools on board, and make it a bit of a competition for high school students to come together and showcase their work," Mrs Gill.

"We've got Berri Regional Secondary College, the Riverland Special School, and Loxton High School competing in the under 18 age group category, which is great.

Mrs Gill said students had been learning new skills to aid in the design, and creation, of their garments.

"Emily Griggs, who is the pathways director for our region, has helped me establish a skills hub," Mrs Gill said.

"Students come to Loxton High School, and they learn about fashion illustration, assemblage and about fashion as a sculpting medium.

"They put their designs together, and some students are doing a modelling unit with me, so they can be the models for the Field Days.

"We're trying to embed the real-life learning application in schools to help promote the competition, and make it a school showcase."

In the over 18 age group, the Ag-Art Wear and Up-Cycled Wear categories will be combined this year.

Garments will be modelled and judged during parades on the BankSA stage, at 1.15pm to 2.15pm, on Friday and Saturday.

Entry into the competition is free, with cash prizes awarded to winners announced at the final parade on Saturday.

Mrs Gill said the efforts of previous Field Days volunteers had been crucial in growing the Ag-Art Wear competition.

"I think it was 17 years ago when Julie Plush started the competition, and her daughter-in-law, Sarah took it over in 2016," she said.

"They did an amazing job in establishing the tradition and making it a highlight of the Field Days."

Designed by Lucy Raynes and worn by Adela, Jean Dress won the 2023 under 18 Up-Cycled Wear category.

Carbon Farming: What are the opportunities and the risks?

Curious about carbon farming and what it could mean for your business?

Come and hear the latest from our Sustainable Agriculture Facilitator as they break down:

-  Carbon farming opportunities – what's real and what's not in our region
-  Emissions reporting and marketability – how emissions-based reporting for your property will increasingly have an impact on your marketability
-  Smarter farm decisions – How tracking emissions can help you cut costs and respond better to rising input prices.

Whether you're a grain grower, livestock producer or simply carbon-curious, this session will give you the practical insights you need to stay ahead.
